The Official Newsletter of the Wiyot Tribe

July, 2015
Volume 1, Issue 1

A Message from Your Chairman

I'm glad to announce that the tribe has been undergoing significant and exciting change over the last few months. We've welcomed Dr. Jacquelyn Bolman as the new tribal administrator and Michelle Vassell has returned as the Social Services director. These two passionate individuals have jumped right in and are bringing new vision to the work of the Tribe. Because of these exciting new developments we have decided to bring back the monthly newsletter. This will give you an opportunity to stay informed about what is happening with the tribe as well as get involved in upcoming events.

We have a great staff, and more change is coming, but ultimately it is the Wiyot citizens who make the tribe, and the staff relies on your direction. Please participate with any upcoming committees, events and general council meetings. The tribe would like to hear from you on any recommendations or concerns. I would like to also remind you of our elder's lunch that we hold on Wednesdays every week. Please also mark September 5th down on calendar and come celebrate Wiyot Day here on Table Bluff.

Finally, I congratulate and celebrate the 2015 graduates from college, high school, and college. May you follow your dreams and succeed in your life goals. You are the future for which we all work.

Juwaksh,

Ted Hernandez

Tribal Chairperson

Meet Your Tribal Administrator

He'wa'lou,

It is an honor and privilege to assume the position of your Wiyot Tribal Administrator. The past months have been very busy meeting staff, citizens, and becoming more familiar with the processes and procedures of the Tribe. It is my devout hope we can all work in partnership to ensure the continued vitality and future development of the Wiyot Tribe.

I am a Native of the Black Hills and Great Plains of South Dakota and worked for over 18 years in Tribal and Indigenous science and natural resources, yet have always longed to work directly with and for a Tribal Nation.

I cannot imagine a more rewarding position of service or the opportunity to learn from such an incredible and cultural people. To be amongst the people of the World Renewal Ceremony is a definitive honor and gift.

If I can ever be of service or of assistance, please do not hesitate to contact me.

New Environmental Justice Project from Cal EPA

By Patty Torres

The Wiyot Tribe Natural Resources Department was recently awarded an environmental justice grant from the California EPA. Through this project, we aim to increase awareness of negative health and environmental effects associated with the use of common household products and pesticides.

Did you know that some common cleaning products can make allergies and asthma symptoms worse? Many of these household products also contain known human carcinogens. Pesticides harm our health and environment in different ways. These chemicals can travel up the food chain and intoxicate wildlife; many studies have shown that small carnivores are especially affected. The team at the Natural Resources Department is excited to host educational events that can shed light on these issues, and look forward to helping Wiyot Tribal members make better informed decisions and their health.

We are currently in the planning stages of the events that will take place over the summer. Some of the activities that are being planned are homemade cleaner workshops, garden field trips, and more. Please stay tuned for upcoming dates.

Natural Resources Department- Current Activities

The Natural Resources Department is busy with activities to better serve the Wiyot Tribe. Below, you'll find a summary of our current projects funded by various state and federal agencies.

GAP

Our General Assistance Program encompasses many different activities, some of which include: environmental education, waste management, consultation and coordination, as well as department administration. We will be posting dates for upcoming environmental education events through our website and Facebook page very soon.

CWA 106 and 319

Clean Water Act grants 106 and 319 are water quality monitoring and non-point source pollution, respectively, and form part of ongoing stewardship of the Tribe's water resources.

Non-point source pollution includes any potential harm to waters coming from a non-specific source. Potential non-point sources include runoff from roads, construction sites, agricultural activities, and more. Through our 319 program, the WNRD has brought to Council ordinances designed to give the Tribe greater authority over development and construction activities. The WNRD also maintains drainages gardens to help control flow at TBR road drainage pipes.

Our CWA §106 program funds water quality monitoring on all waters of the reservation. Currently, this is limited to the Tribal wetlands where we have two monitoring wells, but we hope to be able to expand this to Humboldt Bay and Eel River sites in the near future. Currently, we are not permitted to use 106 or 319 funding on projects in Humboldt Bay or Eel River because the Wiyot Tribe has no Trust lands in direct contact with those water bodies. The WNRD continues to collect long term continuous water quality data in Humboldt Bay under the GAP funding and we are seeking ways to fund long term data collection on the Eel.

CWA 104-Wetland Management

The Wiyot Tribe Natural Resource Department is busy in the process of collecting biological data on Tribal wetlands as part of an Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) section 104 (b)(3) grant. This grant seeks to build the Tribe's "Wetland Program Plan" and capacity to manage their wetlands to promote healthy functioning wetland services, such as water collection and pollutant filtration, as well as habitat for a variety of plant and animal species.

US Fish & Wildlife Tribal Wildlife Grant

We are in the final phases of our second USFWS TWG to study Eel River and Humboldt Bay Tributaries Pacific lamprey (gou'daw). This project consists of creating a Management and Monitoring Plan for gou'daw, with a specific goal of increasing the strength of the population to increase Tribal harvest. Work has included spawning and Ammocoete surveys, capturing and tagging lamprey on Freshwater

Creek in cooperation with CA DFW, and Creel surveys of Tribal Eelers.

NOAA Species Recovery Grant

We are in year two of a three-year National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration/National Marine Fisheries Tribal Species Grant studying Eel River Green Sturgeon (B'am). There are two distinct population segments (dps) of green sturgeon; Southern, which are listed endangered and northern, which are a species of concern.

The Wiyot Tribe is conducting the first scientific study of Eel River Green Sturgeon. Over a three year period, our plan is to float the river from Dos Rios to the mouth (~190 river km) mapping suitable spawning habitat and determining presence using a high tech DIDSON Sonar camera. We will also place radio tag receivers in strategic locations in the river and off shore to detect fish that may have been tagged in other studies, attempt to capture and tag sturgeon in the Eel River, and collect genetic samples from captured fish to determine population of origin.

NOAA Marine Debris Removal Grant

We are in the final stages of our NOAA-funded Marine Debris Removal grant. The project is primarily focused on the removal of the large debris remaining in the mudflats along the Tuluwat shellmound as a result of the shipyard that operated on the Tribe's sacred land for over 100 years. After many delays from permitting and weather, the cleanup was completed in these past weeks.

BIA Invasive Wildlife Grant

The invasive cordgrass Spartina Densiflora has long been considered a problem in Humboldt Bay and the Northern Pacific Coast. There has been an ongoing eradication effort in Humboldt Bay for the past decade using multiple methods. Spartina takes over entire ecosystems from the tidal mud to higher elevation salt marsh, driving our native species that migrating waterfowl and other animals rely on for food and habitat. We were awarded a three-year, $210,000 grant for eradication work on Tribally-owned property of Indian Island. We anticipate to begin work in upcoming months.

Marine Protected Area Estuarine Baseline Monitoring Program

In collaboration with scientists at Humboldt State University, we are working on a baseline monitoring program of estuarine Marine Protected Areas in the Northern California Region. This work is excellent capacity building in scientific data collection methodologies for fishery, invertebrate, and botanical sampling. We are working twice yearly to take comprehensive samples in Humboldt Bay and Mad River in Humboldt and Big River and Ten Mile River in Mendocino. The Next sampling dates will occur in late May/early June. We are in the second year of a three-year project.

Cultural Department Addresses Climate Change

By Tom Thorma

In the coming years, the lands around Humboldt Bay are going to change significantly. A number of changes can be predicted. For starters, there is an aggressive program to restore native marsh grasses to the marshes of the bay, including tribally owned land on Indian Island. While this has been a long standing and ongoing project which the tribe's Natural Resources Department has been actively involved in, there have been other projects that will affect the overall situation in the Bay. One has been the decision by the State of California, in response to climate change, to stop maintaining certain portions of the dike and levee system that surrounds Humboldt Bay. As a result, over the coming years the tides will be taking back many of the bottoms and agricultural lands and restoring them to mudflats and

In addition, Humboldt Bay National Wildlife Refuge is currently restoring native grasses near Ma-le'l Dunes in a study to better understand how the native dunes will respond to impending sea level rise.

For both of these projects, the Cultural Department has been actively engaged on multiple fronts. First, through a grant from SeaGrant, done in cooperation with regional tribes, we are studying traditional and historical use of the lands and waters that constitute Humboldt Bay. In addition, we are engaged in studying traditional use of plants to help determine the role of the Wiyot Tribe on the landscape. The landscape of Humboldt Bay will be heavily affected by both human activity and climate change in the near future. The work that the Cultural Department is doing today will help ensure that as this happens, the knowledge that the Wiyot Tribe accumulated over the centuries continues to help protect the place the Tribe calls home.

Message from Assistant Cultural Director

While I am known to many of you as the Chair of the Wiyot Tribal Council, I would like to introduce myself as the new Assistant Cultural Director for the Wiyot Tribe. I can't wait to meet and talk with all of you in the months to come. I would like to hear your ideas concerning the future of the cultural department, especially any suggestions for activities that would benefit Wiyot youth and adults of all ages. Remember, it's your Cultural Department, so I encourage you to speak up. Not only will your ideas and input be heard, but I will also work hard to implement them. I would highly encourage everyone to come out and visit the Cultural Center. It would be a great opportunity to get to know us here in the cultural department. I do see an awesome renewal of this department and the direction it is headed. With that in mind, I will be hosting a Cultural Committee meeting on the evening of July 15th at 6:00 PM at the Community Center on the Table Bluff Reservation. I am looking forward to us getting to know one another as we move forward on our cultural journey as the Wiyot Nation.

Announcements from the Language Department

Ha'wa'lou from the Wiyot Language Program! First of all, a word about the new name of our newsletter, Da'luk. In Wiyot, da'luk (pronounced roughly "dot-luck") means 'news', 'talk', or 'words'. It is from the verb da'l 'to talk': da'lu 'I talk', da'lut 'you talk', da'lilh 'he/she talks'. So da'louyit! Let's talk!

2016 Wiyot Language calendar:

This year we were fortunate to be awarded a Grassroots Grant from Humboldt Area Foundation to support community participation in creating a Wiyot language calendar for 2016. Youth and families are invited to be part of the calendar working group, which will meet regularly throughout the summer to choose a theme, take photos and/or create artwork, research Wiyot words and phrases, and design the calendar layout. Contact Lynnika for meeting times and location.

Summer language classes for youth:

From June 15 through the end of July, youth at Table Bluff are invited to join me Monday-Thursday mornings at 10:00 for Wiyot language classes and games. Classes are 30 minutes Monday-Wednesday; on Thursdays we will meet from 10:00-12:00 to design and create Wiyot language T-shirts using the language we have practiced during the week. We will be learning numbers, greetings, names of plants, animals and people, and some short phrases. Interested youth can meet me at the Youth Center at 10:00 (exact location of class may change from day to day).

Wiyot storybook project (a collaboration with Bear River):

As part of a grant awarded to Bear River's Cultural program, youth at Table Bluff and Bear River are working together to illustrate and narrate two traditional Wiyot stories, "The Slug" and "Above Old Man". At the end of the year, we will publish two illustrated storybooks with audio CDs which will be given free to youth at Table Bluff and Bear River. We recently finished work on The Slug, but are continuing to work on Above Old Man for most of 2015. Above Old Man is a story about Above Old Man (Creator)'s son, who was given every advantage but did not respect his father. It is full of hunting, gambling, and traditional games. We meet every Wednesday from 2:30-4:30, alternating between the Cultural Center at Table Bluff and the library at Bear River. We still need youth to draw pictures and record audio (Wiyot and English) for the story. Snacks and art materials are provided, and participants practice Wiyot words and phrases at each week's workshop, so please join us! The schedule for the rest of the summer is as follows (with advance notice, I can provide transportation from Table Bluff to Bear River):

Storybook workshops / Wednesdays 2:30-4:30

June 17:	Table Bluff
June 24:	Bear River
July 1:	Table Bluff
July 8:	Bear River
July 15 th :	cancelled (Lynnika is on vacation)
July 22 nd :	Bear River
July 29 th :	Table Bluff
August 5 th :	Bear River
August 12 th :	Table Bluff
August 19 th :	Bear River

August 26th: Table Bluff

New language materials and requests: I have a lot of new language material available to any tribal member who would like copies. In particular, I have created many, many vocabulary flashcards with QR codes that can be scanned with a smartphone to hear an audio clip of a word's pronunciation (in most cases, the audio clip is from a recording of Nettie Rossig or Della Prince, two of the last fluent Wiyot speakers). I will be happy to send digital (PDF) or printed copies of these flash cards or other materials to anyone who would like to practice Wiyot at home. If you have a list of words and phrases that I haven't yet made codes and flashcards for, just contact me and I will happily create them for you. To see how QR codes work for language, download a free QR code scanning app like QR Droid (for Android) or QR Code Reader by Scan, Inc. (for iPhone). Then use the app to scan the code below and hear jouwaksh—the Wiyot word for 'goodbye'.

To get involved or to ask questions about any of these activities, please contact me at any time at lynnika@wiyot.us, or by phone at 707-733-5055.

Health and Human Services Department

Wiyot Parent Committee:

Wiyot Parent Committee will meet Wednesday August 5th at 1:00 pm at the Table Bluff Reservation Community Center. The role of the Wiyot Parent committee is to help guide program activities, volunteer to supervise activities and assist in raising funds for the program. Parents are invited to attend the monthly committee meetings, make suggestions for individual activities, and offer suggestions for improvements on existing activities. The parent committee will also guide the programs eligibility requirements, program rules, and volunteer requirements. The parent committee will set up and participate in fundraising activities to meet the remaining gap in funding.

Wiyot Day

The Wiyot Tribe will host Wiyot Day "Honoring Our Wiyot Elders." The demonstration will be held September 5th, 2015. The event will begin at Noon at Table Bluff Reservation; the tribe will be honoring elders and veterans who attend. There will be dancing demonstrations, Vendors, lunch and a stick ball tournament. This is an Alcohol and Drug Free Event. The Wiyot Tribe is currently accepting Vendor Applications for this event. If you would like to have a table at the 2015 Wiyot Day event please complete and return the application by August 25th, 2015.

Healing Our Communities Traditionally

July 14th 5:00pm to 8:30pm, Mike Duncan will be presenting Red Road Recovery, Violence and Healing our Communities Traditionally. There will be an open mic to discuss personal victories in recovery, needs ## community.

Mike Duncan is an enrolled member of Round Valley Indian Tribes. His tribal heritage is Con-Cow/ Wailaki / Wintun. Mike Duncan is the founder and CEO of Native Dads Network in Sacramento, CA. For the last three years Mike has facilitated the "Fatherhood is Sacred" curriculum with great success. He has had over two hundred fathers attend his group and has help create a network of fatherhood groups in Northern California. Also in this time he has worked urban and rural native communities conducting workshops discussing topics such as – Historical Trauma, Cultural Competency and Healthy Relationships. He has used these topics to help participants look at barriers and to encourage traditional teachings as solutions. Mr. Duncan is strong believer in cultural values and building self-empowerment in our people. By using his own life experiences and creating a positive environment he has built relationships with fathers/mothers and families in Sacramento, Eldorado, Placer, San Joaquin and Inyo counties. Mike is certified with CAADAC as an Alcohol and Drug counselor and has also been trained by Kene Me-Wu, American Indian Domestic Violence Program as a Domestic Violence Counselor. He has used those skills and his own recovery to help address community issues linked to historical trauma like Drugs and Alcohol, Prison, Gangs, lateral violence, Domestic Abuse (mental/physical/sexual/verbal), and suicide. Currently Mr. Duncan is working with tribal communities across California to promote Fatherhood/Motherhood and culture as method of prevention. His mission is to encourage and support fathers, mothers to share his vision to having "Happy and Safe families."

Tsek Houdagh "Where the Children Are"

The Wiyot Youth Center Tsek Houdagh "Where the Children Are" a positive place to inspire and enable young people to realize their full potential as productive, responsible and caring citizens by celebrating their culture and community, enjoying healthy fun with their peers, and to learn new skills and self-confidence under the guidance of responsible adults.
